A photograph of a large crowd of people at night, gathered on a city street. In the foreground, a large fire is burning on the ground, with bright orange and yellow flames. A person is lying on the ground near the fire. In the background, many people are standing and watching. Some are wearing hats and casual clothing. The scene is illuminated by streetlights and the fire. The text "Crowdsourcing Assessment Literacy" is overlaid in white, sans-serif font across the middle of the image.
